Dear Patrick

This is just a quick note to thank you very much for presenting to our Year 10 girls on Friday 18 March 2005.

It was a pleasure to have met you and thanks for sharing your expertise with us. It really is wonderful that the girls had some real-life advice and your presentation consolidated what we were trying to teach.

Teaching financial literacy can become 'just another subject' without the assistance of a professional to present real-world issues.

This information is invaluable as it helps to consolidate programmed material and promote further discussion. Being able to break up the 'teaching' classes with a guest speaker whose expertise is relevant and delivery is interesting was a great opportunity.

Hopefully there will be an opportunity to work together again in the future.

Yours faithfully

Kathleen O'Shea
